EXHIBITS

- 28. No exhibitor or official may handle or indicate his or her exhibits during, except with the judge's permission.
- 29. The floor of the show pen shall be covered with clean sawdust, shavings, as white as possible, excepting longhaired exhibits, which must be shown on paper or wood based cat litter. All bedding and conspicuous foodstuffs shall be removed from each show pen immediately prior to judging, and placed in the owner's box for the return journey, and that one piece of fruit or vegetable must be placed by the owner in each show pen before benching the animal. A dog biscuit, supplied by the club will be placed in each show pen prior to benching.

- 30. No identification marks shall be visible on any part of the show pen, except for the official label stuck on the top of the pen in the back left hand corner bearing the pen number and the number of the classes entered, and a 2"(51mm) x 1"(25mm) label which may be stuck underneath the pen bearing the owner's name and address. Hire pens are to be made easily distinguishable by an "H", 3"(75mm) high marked in white on the back of the pen.
- 31. Should an exhibitor/breeder knowingly have stock with any contagious infection, disease or sickness, they shall not enter or sell any stock at a show held under NHC rules.
- 32. The Judge's hands, (and judging grid, if used), shall be disinfected with a suitable antiviral preparation provided by the National Hamster Council. This shall occur between each individual show pen. Judges must consult the guidelines issued by the Standards Committee, available to all club and NHC judges from the Chairman of that Committee on request.
- 33. Wherever the organising club has authority to implement the rule, there shall be NO SMOKING in vicinity of hamsters i.e. in same room as the hamsters are benched and/or judged etc.
- 34. The judge(s) alone shall be responsible for the disqualification or reclassification of any exhibit.
- 35. Any exhibit disqualified as suffering from a disease which the judge(s) believe(s) to be contagious, or through evidence of parasitic infestation, shall immediately be replaced in the owner's box and placed away from the other exhibits and boxes. If the owner is present, he or she must remove the diseased hamster from the show. Any other hamsters/animals brought by that exhibitor to the show will be checked for signs of disease and/or parasitic infestation by competent person(s) other than the exhibitor. Once an exhibitor's hamsters have been checked, if more than one hamster is found to have a suspected infectious disease or infestation, all of that exhibitor's hamsters must be removed from the venue. This includes any on the sales table or the Pet Class. All of those exhibitor's susceptible animals, plus any that may have been in close proximity prior to the show, must also be removed. The Show Secretary's decision is final.
- 36. The decision of the judge(s) in all matters concerning the placing of exhibits or the interpretation of the NHC exhibition standards at the show at which they are officiating shall be final.
- 37. A person may not exhibit in any class where the Judge is: (a) the person (b) a member of the person's household (c) in partnership (whether formal or informal) with the person.

38. The judge(s) shall not be informed of the owner of any exhibit until judging is complete.

39. Vendors may only offer for sale, hamsters that, to the best of their knowledge,
- (a) show only the natural colour for the species or mutation(s) listed in Appendix C.
 - (b) do not have any other species of hamster in their background.
 - (c) have no hamsters in their ancestry that do not meet criteria (a) and (b)
- All animals offered for sale must be at least 5 weeks of age and in good health. Vendors must issue details of parentage with every hamster sold, which must include as a minimum, individual identification and description of parents and grandparents, where known.
40. At NHC events the vendor may offer for sale only stock which, to the best of their knowledge, complies with paragraph 39. Also the vendor shall provide a suitable carrying box or container for every animal that they offer for sale.

REGULATIONS FOR AMENDING EXHIBITION STANDARDS

PRINCIPLES

41. The need for stable exhibition standards is paramount to hamster breeding. Amendments to existing standards shall only occur after a two-year period and then as and when necessary. Constructive criticism shall always be encouraged and welcomed.
42. The allocation of points for the various features (colour, markings, type, fur, size, etc) shall be the same for all standards of the same species.

PROCEDURE

43. Notice that amendments may be submitted shall be published in the Council Journal two issues prior to the meeting of the Standards Committee.
44. Amendments shall be sent to the standards committee within 14 days of the publication of the notice.
45. Amendments must be suitably worded and properly proposed and seconded with the signature of the proposer and seconder.
46. Amendments must be framed to conform to the general layout of existing standards.
47. Proposed amendments shall be published in the issue of the Council Journal prior to the meeting of the Standards Committee.
48. Objections to any proposed amendments so published must be sent to the Standards Committee Chairman within 14 days of publication.

- 49. The Standards Committee shall meet not less than 21 (and not more than 60) days after publication of the proposed amendments to decide whether the Exhibition Standard should be amended as proposed.

COMPLAINTS

- 50. The decision of the Standards Committee shall be final, except in the following circumstances: -
- (a) An amendment will be reconsidered upon written application (signed by each person) of not less than 25 resident adult members of affiliated clubs.
- (b) In the event of serious disagreement, or instead of a properly requested reconsideration, the standards committee may arrange a national ballot on the controversial amendment.

REGULATIONS FOR THE RECOGNITION OF NEW VARIETIES

PRINCIPLES

- 51. The proposed new variety shall be sufficiently distinct from any standardised variety so that, when placed side by side, no possibility of confusion can arise.
- 52. The proposed new variety shall be capable of true breeding (e.g. be capable of the demonstration that litters of the variety shall consist entirely of that variety) with the following exceptions: -
- (a) Sterility in one or both sexes shall not necessarily disqualify, since there is every likelihood that the sterility may be corrected by selective breeding.
- (b) A distinctive impure form of a dominant lethal (e.g. as in the yellow mouse) shall not necessarily disqualify.
- 53. A mutation that might at a later date be combined with other mutations shall be preserved for its potential value.

PROCEDURE FOR APPLICANT

- 54. Applications for recognition of a new mutation or variety shall be sent to the NHC, who shall then send full details to all members of the Standards Committee and the Council.
- 55. The applicant shall be prepared to furnish the following particulars: -
- (a) Name and address of applicant
- (b) Date and place of discovery or creation of proposed new mutation or variety.
- (c) Full information on parentage/production of the proposed new mutation or variety. In the case of a suspected new mutation, evidence shall be provided that the new variety is the result of a natural mutation and not cross-species hybridisation.

- (d) Proposed name(s) for the new variety (established usage in other fancies to be adopted where possible)
 - (e) A proposed exhibition standard for the new variety
 - (f) If possible, a genetic description of the variety's breeding.
56. Prior to a Standard being accepted as permanent, a representative living specimen of three generations, both male and female (if possible), must be shown to the Chairperson and at least 2 members of the Colour Standards Committee.

OBJECTIONS AND AMENDMENTS

57. One month's notice will be given in the Council Journal that a proposed new variety is to be considered by the Standards Committee.
58. In order to permit objections to the recognition of the proposed new variety or amendments to the proposed name(s) and Standard, the proposed name(s) and Standard(s) will be published simultaneously with the notice.
59. Objections and amendments must be received by the Standards Committee chairman at least 7 days before the announced date of the meeting of the standards committee. Any amendments agreed by the Committee on the day of the meeting must be published in the next Journal and take effect not less than 60 days after publication. If 25 adult member objections, signed by each objector, are received by the NHC Secretary, by the date specified (not less than 45 days after publication), then the amendment will not come into effect, but will be referred to the next meeting of the Committee.

PROCEDURE FOR STANDARDS COMMITTEE

60. In order to reach a decision, the Committee shall be guided by the above and by the objections and amendments submitted.
61. If the applicant does not wish to propose a suitable name or standard, the Committee will do so. In the case of proposed new mutations, the Standards Committee after discussion shall vote as to whether or not they believe the variety to be caused by a natural mutation. Should the result of this vote be in the affirmative, they shall recommend to the Council that the mutation be added to Appendix C as soon as possible.
62. Although the Committee will consider sympathetically any name(s) proposed, in the interests of uniformity of naming of varieties among the fancies, the Committee cannot be bound to accept any name(s) proposed.
63. The decision of the Committee to recognise a new variety shall be final, but a rejected variety may be resubmitted after an interval of not less than 12 months, together with any new evidence in favour of recognition.

- 64. All new varieties shall be given an initial trial period of two years, the provisional standard to be stated in the NHC Journal. During the trial period, the new variety may be exhibited in the appropriate straight and duplicate classes, at all shows. If, in the opinion of the Standards Committee, the new variety keeps the required standard, at the end of the two-year trial period is over, the standard shall then become permanent.
- 65. National Hamster Council recognises only those natural mutations listed in Appendix C" .

PATTERNED VARIETIES

Care must be taken when breeding patterned animals as some patterns contain the anophthalmic or white bellied gene, (Wh).

DOMINANT SPOT (PIEBALD) (Dsds or ss)

1. The dominant spot shall have the appearance of a white animal with coloured spots. The spots shall be sharply defined and evenly distributed over the top surface of the animal.
2. The belly fur shall be white.
3. The white areas shall be white to the roots.
4. The coloured spots shall conform to the recognised corresponding full coloured variety.
5. Eye colour: as for the full coloured variety, also ruby/red eye or eyes permissible.
6. Ear colour: as for the full coloured variety, also flesh or partly flesh coloured permissible.

NOTES

WHITE BAND (BaBa or Baba)

1. The white banded animal shall have the appearance of coloured animal with a superimposed white band. The white band shall completely encircle the body and be centrally placed and not skewed. The width shall be approximately one third of the body length, completely unbroken with sharply defined and parallel margins.
2. The belly fur shall be white.
3. The white areas shall be white to the roots.
4. The coloured areas shall conform to the recognised full colour variety.
5. Eye colour: as for the full coloured variety, also ruby/red eye or eyes permissible.
6. Ear colour: as for the full coloured variety, also flesh or partly flesh coloured permissible.

NOTES

BANDED DOMINANT SPOT (BaBaDsds, BabaDsds or rdrd)

1. The Banded Dominant Spot hamster shall have the appearance of a dominant spot or piebald animal with a broad white band superimposed. The white band shall extend from the neck to the hips, ideally $\frac{2}{3}$ of the body length, and contain no coloured markings. The head and the rump shall conform to the Dominant Spot or Piebald standard, (i.e. give the appearance of the white animal with coloured markings).
2. Coloured areas shall conform to the relevant colour standard. White areas shall be white to the roots.
3. Belly fur shall be white to the roots.
4. Eye colour shall be as for the full coloured variety. Red or ruby eye or eyes are also permissible.
5. Ear colour shall be as for the full coloured variety. Mottled ears are also permissible.

TORTOISESHELL AND WHITE (TotoBaba, TotoBaBa, or TotoDsds)

1. A tortoiseshell is a sex-linked bi-coloured animal. The standard calls for a tricoloured animal which is produced by combining the tortoiseshell with a white pattern gene. The coat colour shall consist of a balanced pattern of coloured, yellow and white patches. These patches shall be clear and distinct with no brindling.
2. The Yellow based patches shall be clearly defined and of a colour appropriate to the hamster's standard colour. Where the Yellow based colour is also recognised as standard, any Yellow patches must conform to the standard. In other cases the Judge may use discretion when judging non-standard yellow patches
3. The belly fur shall be white.
4. Eye colour: as stipulated for the full colour variety; also red/ruby eye or eyes permissible.
5. Ear colour: as stipulated for the full colour variety; also flesh or partly flesh coloured permissible.

NOTES - Sex linked.

TORTOISESHELL (Toto)

1. Overall Appearance: A tortoiseshell is a bi-coloured animal which consists of a balanced pattern of coloured and yellow patches. These patches shall be clear and distinct with no brindling.
2. The Yellow based patches shall be clearly defined and of a colour appropriate to the hamster's standard colour. Where the Yellow based colour is also recognised as standard, any Yellow patches must conform to the standard. In other cases the Judge may use discretion when judging non-standard yellow patches

ROAN (Whwh)

1. Overall Appearance: The Roan shall have the appearance of a white animal ticked with colour. The ticking shall be heavy around the head and give an evenly marbled appearance over the remainder of the top coat. The white areas shall be white to the roots. The coloured areas shall conform to the recognised coloured variety allowing for slight dilution.
2. The belly fur shall be marbled with colour.
3. Eye Colour: As for the full coloured variety also ruby or red eye or eyes permissible.
4. Ear Colour: As for the full coloured variety also flesh or partly flesh coloured ears permissible.

COAT VARIETIES

LONG HAIR

1. The colour and markings shall conform to the recognised colour standard, allowing for the dilution effect of the long-haired gene; this is particularly noticeable on the ticking of agouti varieties, but will also affect other varieties.
2. The fur shall be soft, very dense, and evenly long over the entire top surface of the body, excluding the face, where it shall be shorter. Special attention shall be paid to the density of the belly fur. The coat shall be as long and dense as possible, but allowance must be made for sex, i.e. males must have longer fur than females, and the females shall not be penalised for having shorter fur.

NOTES This coat type may be combined with satin and/or rex.

SATIN

1. The colour and markings shall conform to the recognised colour standard, allowing for the effect of the satinisation.
2. The fur shall be soft and dense, and have a glossy, satin sheen.

NOTES This coat type may be combined with long hair and/or rex.

Under no circumstances should two satins be mated together, as this will result in "double satinisation" and, eventually, almost naked hamsters. A satin must only be mated with a non-satinised variety.

REX

1. The colour and markings shall conform to the recognised colour standard, for diluting effect of the rex gene; this is particularly noticeable on the ticking of agouti varieties, but will also affect other varieties.
2. The coat shall be soft and dense, and evenly "frizzy".
3. The whiskers shall be curly.

NOTES This coat type may be combined with satin and/or long hair.

APPENDIX A

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT

The Certificate of Merit awards are reliant on the honesty of Exhibitors, therefore the membership of anyone found to be giving false information will be reviewed.

The Judge may only award a Certificate of Merit to a hamster that they consider to be an excellent example of their species. A Hamster must be entered in the Grand Challenge Class to be able to qualify for a Certificate.

At each show the Judge may award Certificates of Merit to those animals which they consider worthy of Champion status at that moment in time.

Poor presentation or dirty staging may be disregarded when awarding Certificates of Merit.

The number of Certificates of Merit awarded may be decided by the Judge, but must reflect the overall quality of the animals present.

Certificates of Merit must only be awarded to animals which, in the Judge's opinion, represent an overall excellent example of the species.

All Judges must use the NHC Standards and the points system when deciding whether or not any individual hamster is an excellent example of the species or variety.

When two or more hamsters share the same marks, the Judge may use their discretion as to which, if any, they award Certificates of Merit.

Any animal which wins three Certificates of Merit under at least two different Judges shall be awarded the title of "NHC Champion" by the NHC Chairman.

Any animal which wins five Certificates of Merit under at least three different Judges shall be awarded the title of "NHC Grand Champion" by the NHC Chairman.

Each Certificate of Merit will be completed at the show. The Judge will enter all information that they are aware of and the Show Secretary and exhibitor will then fill in the remainder. No changes or alterations are to be made to the Certificate of Merit.

For a hamster to be awarded Champion or Grand Champion status the owner must send the relevant Certificates of Merit to the person co-ordinating the Championship certification, (currently Mrs. Susan Washbrook). The co-ordinator will return these to the exhibitor, together with a Certificate recognising the hamster's new status.

Rosettes will be awarded to Champion and Grand Champions. Rosettes will normally be presented at shows; where members require rosettes to be posted the member shall pay postage costs.

Where possible, the coordinator will also send a copy of the Certificates to the breeder of the hamster if different from the exhibitor.

Championship or Grand Championship status may only be awarded to individually identified hamsters owned by members of a National Hamster Council affiliated club.

Hamsters achieving Champion or Grand Champion status, (together with the names of their owner and breeder); will be listed in the National Hamster Council Journal as soon as possible.

Any member wishing to have Certificate and Rosette posted to them, should send appropriate monies, in advance, to cover postage & packing to the Co-ordinator

NOTE: The success of these awards depends entirely on the HONOUR and HONESTY of ALL Exhibitors

APPENDIX D

NHC CODE OF PRACTICE

The NHC promotes a high standard of hamster care & welfare. Therefore membership of an NHC affiliated club means you automatically agree to follow your clubs' rules & those of the Constitution.

In addition, you also agree to follow the separate NHC Codes of Practice. The NHC expects ALL its members to keep their hamsters in suitable housing, with some type of enrichment. There are no exceptions.

Failure to adhere to any of these could mean expulsion from your club.

Housing

The hamster must be housed in a secure enclosure. The hamster must be unable to escape and be protected from potential predators.

The enclosure must be sited away from draughts and heat sources, (including direct sunlight), in an environment where the temperature remains relatively constant. The environment must be frost proof and temperatures should not rise above 25°C.

To prevent fighting, each mature Syrian hamster must be caged singly, (except for a female housed with the un-weaned pups that she is suckling). Other hamster species may be housed in compatible groups of their own species.

The design of the cage must be suitable and safe for hamsters. Particular care must be taken to ensure that the hamster is unable to fall from a height or become trapped in small spaces.

The NHC recommends a minimum of 1000cm² (useable floor space) x 19cmH for Syrian hamsters and 750cm² (useable floor space) x 17cmH for Dwarfs.

The enclosure must be large enough to allow the hamster to exercise and to establish separate toilet, feeding, food storage and nesting areas.

Environmental enrichment, (e.g. wheels, boxes and tubes of suitable size), should be supplied to encourage activity.

For reasons of hygiene, and to encourage natural burrowing behaviour, the floor of the enclosure must be covered in a layer of a suitable absorbent substrate.

Sufficient safe bedding material must be supplied to enable the hamster to build a nest adequate for the ambient temperature conditions.

Feeding

The basis of the hamster's diet must be a balanced hamster mix, containing hard foods suitable for keeping teeth in trim. The amount required per day will vary with the hamster's species; an egg cupful is adequate for an adult Syrian hamster.

Some vegetables and fruits, (not citrus fruits or onion but see full list on NHC website), can be given in small quantities, 2-3 times a week and all uneaten fresh food removed frequently (or regularly). It must be well washed before feeding to remove dirt and pesticides.

To prevent impaction of the cheek pouches, foodstuffs that are sticky or that melt must not be given.

Fresh, clean drinking water must be available in the enclosure at all times.

Handling

Handling should, ideally, take place in the late afternoon or evening, when the hamster is naturally awake and alert.

Hamsters should never be handled more than a few inches above a surface or the floor, in case of falls.

To remove food odours, (with consequent risks of nipping), hands should be washed before handling hamsters. As with any animal, hands must be washed after handling hamsters, for reasons of hygiene.

When taming a hamster, handling “little and often” is recommended, to help the hamster learn the owner’s scent and voice.

Health

Bedding and cage litter must be changed at intervals sufficiently frequent to maintain a hygienic environment. Where possible, it is recommended that the interval between cleanings should be at least a week, since cleaning disrupts the animals’ natural scent marking and hoarding behaviours, which may cause psychological stress.

All cages and equipment must be cleaned regularly, preferably with an animal safe disinfectant.

At all events, provision will be made to minimise risk of transfer of pathogens between hamsters and between hamsters and humans. This may be by barrier methods or by the use of animal safe disinfectants or cleansers.

Hamsters must be checked at regular intervals for signs of illness or disease. If and when these symptoms are found, prompt action must be taken to alleviate the source of the problem, seeking veterinary attention where necessary.

Breeding

Exhibitors should not breed hamsters, except for show purposes or for the continuation of a bloodline.

Stock used for breeding must be healthy and of good temperament. The individuals should have no known genetically inherited illnesses or disease in their ancestry. Pairings believed likely to result in pups with birth defects must be avoided.

Syrian females must be given a recovery period of at least six weeks after weaning a litter and should not rear more than three litters in their lifetime.

The hybridisation of any species of hamster is strongly discouraged by the National Hamster Council.

Careful thought must be given before breeding as to provision of suitable homes for any surplus youngsters.

Syrian hamster females should be aged between four and eight months when mated for the first time.

Records must be kept of all hamsters kept by an exhibitor. Each record should contain, as a baseline; species, age, sex, colour, parentage and history, (breeding and medical)

Re-homing

Only regular exhibitors who are members of an appropriate club may re-home animals at shows and other events organised by that club.

All hamsters re-homed must be accompanied by details of ancestry, a description, (species, age, sex, and colour), care information and breeder's contact details.

Hamsters re-homed must be healthy and fully weaned. They must be no younger than five weeks of age and no older than ten months.

Exhibition and transport

No hamster may be transported, exhibited or otherwise confined in any container that does not allow the animal to stretch out at full length, turn around or sit upright on its haunches.

The travelling or exhibition container must be sufficiently well ventilated for the animals' needs. There must always be provision for air circulation around the air vents, whether the container is in transit or at an event venue.

Suitable quantities of hard food and moisture supplying fruit or vegetable must always be available to hamsters in transport or exhibition pens.

Any animal believed by any Official exhibiting signs of illness, injury or disease must be returned to the owner as soon as practicable. The owner will be encouraged to seek advice, including veterinary attention if necessary.

Where any exhibitor suspects an infectious disease, that person must seek qualified medical advice (under the Animal Welfare Act 2006) and not expose their hamsters to other hamsters until the problem is resolved or a recommended period of quarantine has been completed.

Club Officials and owners will monitor ambient conditions, (temperature, noise, etc) at all venues, and take such action as may be needed to keep them at an appropriate level. During travel, this responsibility falls to the person transporting the animal(s).

Any handling of hamsters at events will be by persons recognised by the club as competent to do so, or under the direct supervision of such a person.

When the health or welfare of any hamster(s) at an NHC affiliated event is, or is likely to be, compromised, the situation must be brought to the attention of the Show Secretary or their appointed NHC Welfare Representative. They will then be required, on behalf of the NHC, to take reasonable steps to prevent or alleviate any animal suffering. The person(s) shall be selected on a show by show basis.
